SEMINAR IN MODERN IRISH HISTORY
EASTER TERM 2013

Sidney Sussex College, Chapel Court, Seminar Room 2

1 May  James Golden (Cambridge), ‘Protestant Democracy? Gender and Class in the Irish Church Disestablishment Debates, 1865-1870.’

29 May  Eye-witness session: John Morrill (Cambridge), ‘Researching and Writing Seventeenth-century Irish history in the age of Mary Robinson and Mary McAleese.’

12 June Mary Hickman (London Metropolitan University), ‘The Northern Ireland Troubles in Britain: Impacts, Engagements, Legacies and Memories.’

All meetings will be at 5 pm

Eugenio Biagini  Bronwen Walter  Sean Campbell

The seminar is generously supported by the Trevelyan Fund of the History Faculty of the University of Cambridge, with a contribution from the Embassy of Ireland.