

The Cambridge Middle East History Group

Seminar programme, Lent Term 2013:

Tuesday 29 January:

Houchang Chehabi (Boston), 'The Discreet alliance: Iran and South Africa in the Apartheid Era'

(The Nihon Room, Pembroke College, 5pm)

Tuesday 12 February:

Seth Anziska (Columbia), 'The Reagan administration, Lebanon, and Israel'

(The Nihon Room, Pembroke College, 5pm)

Tuesday 26 February:

James Roslington (Cambridge), 'The Rif War (Morocco, 1921-1926) and the coming world crisis'

(The Nihon Room, Pembroke College, 5pm)

Tuesday 12 March:

Jasmin Khosravie (Bonn), 'Iranian women on the road: Reflections on gender and mobility in female travel writing of the Qajar era'

(The Nihon Room, Pembroke College, 5pm)

Thursday 14 March:

Roundtable discussion: 'Reflections on the Middle East in World History' with Dr Andrew Arsan, Dr David Motadel, Dr Jacob Norris, Dr John Slight

(Location TBC, 5pm)