CAMBRIDGE EARLY MODERN BRITISH & IRISH HISTORY SEMINAR 2019–20

Wednesdays at 5:15pm, Graham Storey Room, Trinity Hall
Except 20 November

23 October Amanda Capern (University of Hull):
‘Going to Chancery: Litigants on the Justice Trail in Early Modern England’

30 October Philippa Carter (Trinity Hall):
‘Managing Mental Illness in Early Modern England’

6 November Laura Flannigan (Newnham College):
‘Allowable or Not?: The Court of Requests and the Definition of Justice in Sixteenth-Century England’

13 November Anthony Milton (University of Sheffield):
‘England’s Abortive Reformation, 1640–42’

20 November Jane Ohlmeyer (Trinity College Dublin)
‘History and Memory of the Irish Civil Wars of the 1640s: Clarendon’s “A Short View”’

Please note that this is a joint session with the Modern Irish History seminar.
It will start at 5pm in the Old Library, Sidney Sussex College.

27 November William Acres (Huron University College / Clare Hall)
‘John Strype’s Reformation and the Circulation of Manuscripts, 1680–1711’

EVERYBODY WELCOME

Convenors: Alexandra Walsham, Clare Jackson, David Smith, Gabriel Glickman, Kate Peters, and Paul Cavill (contact)