Modern Social and Economic History & Policy Seminar
Lent Term 2020

Castlereagh Room in the Fisher Building, St John’s College
Thursdays 5:00pm

(except Tuesday 25 February held jointly with the Financial History Seminar in Darwin College)

These seminars are held jointly with the Modern British History seminar

6th February
Adrian Bingham (Sheffield)
'Reducing the alienation of young people from normal political life? The lowering of the voting age in Britain, 1959-70'

25th February (Old Library, Darwin College)
Sir Anthony Seldon (University of Buckingham)
'Three hundred years of Prime Ministers, 1721-2021: how has the office survived and adapted?'

5th March
Glen O’Hara, (Oxford Brookes)
'How radical and how left-wing were the Blair governments of 1997-2007?'

Convenors:
Simon Szreter
Lucy Delap
Duncan Needham
The Seminar is grateful for the generous support provided by the Trevelyan Fund