

CAMBRIDGE EARLY MODERN BRITISH & IRISH HISTORY SEMINAR 2019–20

Wednesdays at 5:15pm, Graham Storey Room, Trinity Hall
Except 20 November

- |             |   |
|-------------|---|
| 23 October  | Amanda Capern (University of Hull):'Going to Chancery: Litigants on the Justice Trail in Early Modern England'  |
| 30 October  | Philippa Carter (Trinity Hall):'Managing Mental Illness in Early Modern England'  |
| 6 November  | Laura Flannigan (Newnham College):'Allowable or Not?: The Court of Requests and the Definition of Justice in Sixteenth-Century England'   |
| 13 November | Anthony Milton (University of Sheffield):'England's Abortive Reformation, 1640–42'  |
| 20 November | Jane Ohlmeyer (Trinity College Dublin)'History and Memory of the Irish Civil Wars of the 1640s: Clarendon's "A Short View"'Please note that this is a joint session with the Modern Irish History seminar.It will start at 5pm in the Old Library, Sidney Sussex College. |
| 27 November | William Acres (Huron University College / Clare Hall)'John Strype's Reformation and the Circulation of Manuscripts, 1680–1711'  |

EVERYBODY WELCOME

Convenors: Alexandra Walsham, Clare Jackson, David Smith, Gabriel Glickman, Kate Peters, and Paul Cavill (contact)