

Faculty of History
Medieval History Research Seminar : Easter Term 2015

Convenors Rosamond McKitterick, Julie Barrau, Tessa Webber, Andrew Spencer, Andrew Bell

As usual the seminars will take place in the Faculty Board Room on Thursdays at 5 p.m. Please note that the Seminars in the Easter Term are weekly, 14th, 21st and 28th May, rather than fortnightly

Thursday 14th May

Katherine Bulteel Papal letters on the Mongols in Context
William Tink The political impact of the abbots of Rievaulx abbey
Tom Forster Fortuna in the historical works of Orderic Vitalis, William of Malmesbury and Henry of Huntingdon
Julia Nowicka Materiality of colour in the service of medieval Christianity

Thursday 21st May

Katrina Maynes Perceptions of male and female behaviour in the Estoire des Engleis
Katherine Walton Smell and Taste in twelfth-century Cistercian sermons on the Song of Songs
David Runciman Monk-bishops and their theological ideas in late twelfth-century England
Andrew Shipley Peter Alfonsi and the Trial of the Talmud in Paris

Thursday 28th May

Luca Koronli The Roman emperor and Rome 554-751
Claire BurrIDGE The transfer of medical knowledge in the Frankish empire and the Lorsch Arzneibuch
Valerie Piro Perceptions of disability in the Carolingian world
Carlotta Baranu Gregory of Huntingdon and the study of Greek in thirteenth- and early fourteenth-century England